Dear Mr Burns,

Thank you for your email to the Attorney General's Office of the 22nd of January, to which I have been asked to respond.

I have spoken with officials in our office who have confirmed that the issues you raise, I am sorry to say, are not ones that this office deals with. The role of the Attorney General is principal legal advisor to the government and, as such, he is unable to offer any legal advice, assistance or support to individuals.

As your correspondence relates to the conduct of a judge and the operation of the courts, which fall within the remit of the Ministry of Justice, you may wish to contact them with your concerns. Their contact details can be found at:

I hope this will be of assistance.

Yours sincerely,

Massimo Magee
